Babson Discusses Advertising

An Exclusive
Feature of
The Arlington News

Roger W. Babson

This is not a defense of advertising. Probably as much money has been wasted on advertising as on drilling for oil or mining for gold, but getting only dry wells and dead veins! But without those willing to take these wild-cat risks, we would have no oil and no gold.

Advertising Is A Good Risk

But advertising is a good risk. Money spent thereon is the best gamble that I know of. According to an advertising bureau which made a study of the 717 companies which were spending annually over $25,000 on advertising ten years ago, 91% are still in business and doing more advertising than ever, while only 5% are now spending less on advertising. Only one company in twelve found advertising unprofitable.

Those companies which have quit advertising were trying to sell a wrong product or had wrong sales policies or an antiquated management. The way this 91% has stayed in business with continuing success, despite competition from new companies, and improved products, proves my point.

Opportunities In Small Cities

Most of the above 717 concerns are located in the larger cities, but I believe that statistics of merchants in small cities would show an equal percentage of success. The most successful companies are (Continued on Page Four)

Kedian Charge Against Officer Continued By Court For Week

In the courtroom follow-up of John P. Kedian case, first publicly mentioned in The News last week, Judge Gardner W. Russell ruled to consider only the application of Mr. Kedian for a charge of assault and battery against Officer Dominic R. Scalez of the Cambridge police. The hearing on that application was heard for some three hours and then continued for a week. The hearing will be concluded on Monday, barring unforeseen developments.

During the hearing several persons testified as to what they observed during and prior to the arrest of Kedian by Scalez. Those appearing were Francis McCarthy of Belmont, with whom Kedian had been during the afternoon and evening concerned Mr. Kedian himself, Patrolman John A. Casazza of the Arlington police, Anthony Camarano of Arnold Street, Cornelius Brosnan of the local Housing Authority, Officer Jeremiah Mahoney of the Cambridge police, and M.D.C. Officer Richard Bishop.

Kedian, who was bloody and battered following an encounter with Officer Scalez on December 21, was arrested by the officer and taken to Cambridge police headquarters and then hurried to Cambridge City Hospital when it appeared that his injuries needed treatment immediately. Attendants took 22 stitches in a head wound which he suffered. Although erroneously reported by The News last week as being charged with drunkenness, Kedian was charged with creating a nuisance, disturbing the peace, and committing assault and battery on an officer. Following the beating which he suffered, Kedian entered application for a counter-charge against the officer. No Edward Doherty was mentioned in connection with the case as reported last week by this paper. Kedian had been accompanied only by Francis McCarthy, testimony showed. McCarthy told of accompanying Kedian on a trip to Lynn to visit a client of the Behr-Manning Co., for which both work, and of returning to Cambridge for a second business call, then stopping at the Sunlight Cafeteria on Mass. Avenue near the Arlington line. Kedian went in the cafe, McCarthy said. Later testimony by Kedian said that he had nothing to drink at the time and only talked with a couple of people in the restaurant.

Tooting of the auto horn by McCarthy, it appeared, caused Officer Scalez to approach the car in which McCarthy sat. Scalez asked that McCarthy move the car, and since it was Kedian's car, McCarthy went into the restaurant for him. Both came out. Scalez gave Kedian a traffic ticket which Kedian asked how he could take care of. Told by Scalez to see a certain person in the cafe, Kedian re-entered, talked to the man, and charged him with trying to "shake him down" for $10. The man, whose name Kedian said was Thibedeau, said nothing and walked away. McCarthy, in the meantime and at the request of Kedian, drove the car across the Arlington line and some distance into Arlington walking back. The time then was about 11:30 p.m.

Later, with Kedian at the Cambridge-Arlington line and McCarthy nearly back to that point after leaving the car near the Capitol Theater, Officer Scalez approached in his police car. A brief exchange of words between Kedian and Scalez rapidly turned into a battle, with Kedian getting the worst of it. McCarthy came on the scene at the time and, for a reason which Judge Russell could not determine, was placed under arrest. The encounter between Kedian and Scalez again continued, with Scalez using a police club. Kedian is now charging (Continued on Page Five)

3 Local Girls Crash Victims

An Arlington girl and two other persons were injured in an automobile accident on the Concord Turnpike at Park Avenue in Belmont—at 9:15 Saturday night. Police said a car driven by Frances Oppedisano, 26, of Decatur Street, Arlington, collided with a sedan operated by Joseph Orlando, 20, of Dorchester.

Orlando skidded on the icy pavement, according to the police. Both cars were demolished. An Arlington ambulance driven by Officer John Ryan rushed Miss Oppedisano to Symmes Hospital, where she was held for observation of back and head and for possible internal injuries. She left the hospital the following day after no serious injury was discovered.

Belmont officers sped Orlando and his passenger Joan Walker, 19, also of Dorchester, to Mt. Auburn Hospital, Cambridge where both were kept for observation.

Another accident involving two Arlington sisters occurred on the Storrow Highway along the Charles, called by police "a glare of ice." The highway was closed for more than an hour Saturday evening when one car spun around three times and overturned on a safety island. Only one member of the six teenagers in the car was hurt—a Brookline youth who injured his arm—but in one of the cars which followed close behind the wreck two local girls and the father of one of them were injured. George Turner, 29, of Providence, R. I., suffered head and spine injuries and two sisters, Jan and Virginia Taft of 46 Harlow Street, Arlington, were also injured. Turner was admitted to Massachusetts General Hospital, but was discharged the next day, January 6.

The engagement of Miss Virginia Taft to Turner was announced several weeks ago.

Cpl. Clyde Tuff

Home On Leave, Cpl. Shifted To Fort Devens

Corporal Clyde Tuff, who returned home from Korea recently, is being transferred to the Boston area for future army service. Summoned home because of serious illness, he did not arrive until after the death of his father but was able to attend the funeral. The corporal put in an application for transfer and is now at Fort Devens.

Young Tuff, only 22, left for army service in January 1951, going to Korea in June. There he served as engineer on trains taking ammunition, food, and supplies to the front and carrying the wounded back to safety and treatment. "It was rough going," he said, "and plenty of times we were shot at by snipers with rifles, machine guns, and larger stuff. It was the same every night. Deraillment and burned-out railroad stations made you sweat to go over those roads," he added.

With his mother sitting nearby in the parlor, he looked over some of the old letters he had sent from the front. In one or two he found what he was after: descriptions of Korea and the Korean people. "The country is beautiful and green and mountainous," he said, "and the people—at first you think they are just ignorant and not very far advanced, but later you learn that many are educated and have attended Seoul University or schools in the U. S. Many Koreans are farmers, of course." (Continued on Page Three)

Methodist Bishop John W. Lord States Opposition To U. M. T.

The Christian must ever measure his pronouncements on contemporary issues in the light of the judgments of history. Of all who speak, he must keep himself free from the passions that warp men's minds and thus make their verdicts unreliable. A confused state of mind is more likely to lead to evil conclusions than to righteous convictions. The Christian cannot remain forever in the classroom where he carefully weighs all factors. Life demands the decisions of the courtroom, where a stand must be taken and a judgment expressed. The Christian knows that "wrong is wrong, though every man embrace it; right is right, though every man erase it." He takes his stand apart from the mob and reasserts fundamental moral and spiritual positions.

It is in this spirit that I stand absolutely opposed to any program of universal military training for the young men of America. Such a program is not in accord with American doctrine or American history. It will not safeguard either America as a nation or our young men who face an uncertain future.

Because of effective propaganda many sincere and good people have come to feel that this is a safe and right course of action for our nation to follow. Many think U.M.T. to be but a variation of the draft and primarily an emergency measure. Others feel that it will bring a fair distribution of military responsibility and will save lives. It is my considered opinion that these views are in serious error and can be successfully refuted. But even though all these things were true we should not betray our finest American heritage by fastening upon our country, now or at any other critical period in history, a system of universal military training.

Most thoughtful people recognize that the real problem that faces us is moral and spiritual. Military achievements, however effective, will not save us or make possible the attainment of future spiritual goals. We must one day place less trust in military might and seek our national security and safety in ways consonant with the might and power of God. Some day we must manifest the courage and faith to take the risk. Postponement only increases the possibility of the decision.

I am not willing to place the moral and spiritual training of our young men in the hands of the military even for a limited period of time. Differing with those who believe that the trainees would develop self-respect, obedience, and patriotism, I feel that separation from the accepted character-building agencies of the community would subject immature youth to powerful temptations that would weaken and not strengthen character. It would be a national sin for America to condition the minds of her youth to more effective ways of killing when what we need is a real approach to the ways of peace, which would include economic rehabilitation, where needed, a stronger United Nations, fair trade arrangements between nations, and a new undergirding of the forces of understanding and brotherhood throughout the world. I would propose, as a substitute for Universal Military Training, Universal Peace Training. Let us train our youth in the ways of peace and equip them not to wage war but to work for peace. How blind we can be! We have tried the ways of war; let us try the ways of peace. Let us not increase further military expenditures, lest we lose what we hope to save.

Assn. Members Request Board To Grant Raise

On Monday evening of this week a committee representing the Municipal Employees Association appeared before the Arlington Personnel Board to make an appeal for salary increases for all employees of the town. One of the speakers for the applicants, said, "It is time that Arlington took the lead in establishing higher salaries for town employees." The Association asked for a $400 increase for all full time employees, including teachers, police and firemen, and provisional appointees.

The cost of the raise, if granted to the approximately 870 employees of the town, would be $348,000, or about $5 increase in the local tax rate.

Edward Swatkins, president of the Employees Association and employee of the Public Works Dept., spoke for the increase, as did James Farragone of Public Works, Thomas Cronin of the Fire Dept., Paul Shanahan of the Tree Dept., and Miss Marilyn Kenney of the Robbins Library staff. The increase is necessary to offset the increase in the cost of living, they declared.

Employees' salaries are subject to the St. Paul plan at present, with increases of 3% being automatically granted for each 5% rise in the Department of Labor cost-of-living index. The employees submitted newspaper clippings to indicate that efforts are being made elsewhere for salary increases, and Mr. Cronin stated that wages being paid are not in line with those in private industry.

The Personnel Board, consisting of Mr. Norcross Stratton, chairman, Lt. James J. Flynn, and Arthur J. Mansfield, declared that they would give the question further study and would make recommendations at a later date.

Two Arlington Men Are Given Appointments

Two Arlington men have been appointed members of separate committees of the Mass. Society of Certified Public Accountants.

Arthur G. Flaherty of 354 Mystic Street has been appointed a member of the committee—Cooperation with Bankers, Bar Association and others for the Massachusetts Society of C.P.A.s, according to an announcement by James B. Willing, president of that organization.

In addition to his activity in the society, Flaherty is a member of the Boston Bar Association, National Association of Cost Accountants, and American Institute of Accountants.

Mr. Flaherty is a partner in the firm of Flaherty, Bliss and Company, 40 Court Street, Boston.

James R. Canavan of 225 Waverly Street has been appointed a member of the Education Committee of the society. In addition to activity in the Massachusetts Society, Canavan is also a member of the American Institute of Accountants and of the National Association of Cost Accountants. He is a senior instructor at Bentley School of Accounting and Finance.

The Museum of Science has extended its Wednesday evening opening indefinitely, according to Bradford Washburn, museum director. Each Wednesday Science Park will remain open until 9:00 p.m. for folks who find a daytime visit impossible and week-end trips inconvenient.

Regular stage demonstrations are scheduled for the evening hours. The second floor exhibit hall is being revamped to accommodate new exhibits to be installed soon at the museum.

BOYS' CLUB ASSOCIATES HOLD TOWN HALL PARTY

On Tuesday night the Boys' Club Associates, Inc., newly-formed organization of Arlington men whose big interest is the Boys' Club and its members, will hold its first big public function. A card party which all may attend, will be held in Robbins Town Hall, beginning at 8:00 p.m.

"Prizes will be given at every table," stated David Busfield, general chairman of the affair, "and we expect some 400 Arlington men and women to attend. Players may attend singly, in couples, or complete with partners and opponents, but all are assured of a good time. It's a chance to meet all of your friends at once."

The Boys' Club Associates, Inc., which was incorporated not many months ago, is sponsoring the card party to raise funds for support of the work of the Boys' Club. The money will be used for such things as improving the club, providing funds for special club projects, and otherwise aiding the lads who will be tomorrow's voters and businessmen. The Associates includes in its membership many of the town's leading citizens. Among those assisting Chairman Busfield are:

"Tickets—John M. Mulcahy, William B. Houser, Thomas J. Manning, Sidney C. Lipton, Robert E. Mahoney.

Prizes—John P. Buckley, John F. McGann, Jr., Alton P. Greene, Norman A. Belden, Donald M. Moore.

Refreshments—William L. Copthorne, Harold N. Anderson, Walter S. Coledge, Jr., Winslow C. Blaney, James H. Sumner, Cesare J. Florenza.

Novelties—Gordon E. Brennan, John J. Tierney, Everett E. Fitzpatrick, Edward B. Caulkins.

Publicity—Robert B. Allee, Robert E. Mahoney.

Arrangements—Charles Schultz, Norman A. Belden, John J. Maguire, Winthrop B. Tewksbury, Robert Titillah, Edward Parr.

In addition to table prizes which will be awarded, it is expected that novelties will be given and larger prizes will be drawn. Arlington merchants are contributing generously from their shelves to aid the fund-raising project, and many wives have promised homemade cookies. Both card-players and the Boys' Club will benefit from their generosity.

Charles F. Small, president of the B. C. A., told The News that the card party is a major fund-raising effort for the group and sincerely urged all residents of the town to help in making it a success.

Your Income Taxes

by
James R. Canavan, C.P.A.

This is the first of a series of eight articles on Federal and State income taxes distributed by the Boston chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants.

Who must file a Federal tax return? A Federal tax return must be filed by every individual who has taxable income of $600 or more during a taxable year.

Has my Federal income tax increased very much? You will pay approximately 17% more in 1951 than you did in 1950. If your tax for 1950 was $250, your liability on the same income for 1951 will be approximately $293; if your tax for 1950 was $400, your liability for 1951 will be approximately $466.

How is my tax determined? Your tax liability is computed by applying the following formula:

Gross income, minus adjusted gross deductions, equals Adjusted gross income. This, minus other deductions, equals Net income. Net income, less exemptions, equals Taxable income. The tax rates are applied to your taxable income. Each item in the formula will be explained in this tax series.

What is "gross income"? Gross income is taxable income. It includes compensation for personal services, income from a business, profits from the sales of property, unless exempt from tax.

What is meant by "exempt income"? Exempt income is income which does not have to be included in computing your tax liability. It includes such items as the following:

1. Interest on state and municipal obligations
2. Accident insurance proceeds
3. Benefit payments to veterans under the G.I. Bill
4. Combat pay for enlisted members of the armed forces (limited to $200 per month for officers)
5. Group life insurance premiums paid by your employer
6. Gifts and inheritances
7. Life insurance proceeds paid as a result of death
8. Old age and survivors' benefit payments under the Social Security Act or the Railroad Retirement Act
9. Certain stock dividends
10. Supper money paid by your employer
11. Unemployment benefits
12. Veterans' disability benefits
13. Payments received under Workmen's Compensation Acts
14. Dividends on National Service Life Insurance.

PLAYING WITH FIRE

By JOHN W. BECK

FINANCIAL EDITOR — DAILY OKLAHOMAN

(The following article seems to bear a message which is worth reading. It is published by the Committee For Constitutional Government, Inc. Similar articles are available weekly. Comments of readers are invited.)

Bankers Worried. It is very evident that many American bankers are becoming increasingly alarmed over the government's policy to perpetuate inflation. That is obvious from the current tone of monthly bank letters. Bankers are beginning to read the handwriting on the wall, and they fear the impact of results that will attend a general awakening of the public to the economic and financial facts of life.

The National City Bank of New York devoted the major part of its 11-page December letter to the "shrinkage of the dollar" and attendant dangers. The bank notes that since 1913 our dollar has lost 62 percent of its purchasing power, and that 47 percent of that loss has occurred since 1939.

The bank letter reviews the repudiation of the gold debt in 1934, and the consequential cheapening of the paper dollar by 41 percent. "But the shrinkage did not stop there. It has kept on..." because the reserve banks are no longer restricted on their issues by the automatic pressure of full convertibility. Conversely, these banks are now obligated to "provide cheap and depreciating money for government to spend and lend."

CHRONIC INFLATION. As government pursues this policy of supporting the general economy via the printing press, it creates the necessity of rising wages and higher prices to compensate for the additional supply of money. A few rounds of this and novel solutions begin to crop up to relieve the pain without striking at the cause.

The first step is to the wages and salaries to the "cost of living." It is here that we begin to chase our tails. The consideration for a stable money vanishes and the problem becomes one of "controlling the inflation." This involves a "limit of tolerance" which Sumner Slichter has set at 3 to 4 percent a year. At 3 1/2 percent the dollar will depreciate 50 percent every 20 years.

Slichter and some other economists think the people will accept this loss without too much of a fight. So far, this follows the course of the planned economy of Germany following World War I, sliding wage-scale and all. And it was precisely this that brought ruin to the German people and prompted the rise of Hitler. Nevertheless our political enterprisers are marching us straight down this road of chronic inflation.

FULL EMPLOYMENT. This chronic inflation is the scheme that is supposed to maintain full employment and keep prices up. It works for a time for employment, but it cannot be maintained indefinitely. It does more than keep prices up, it keeps them going up forever. It will bring about more tragedy than any normal cycle spell of deflation ever has done or ever will do.

Inflation strikes hardest at the old people whose pensions dwindle with rising prices. "It strikes at all of our institutional arrangements that are founded on the presumption of a sound currency." It hits all workers, but it hits hardest at unorganized workers. Ironically enough, organizing won't help them, either, but will only make matters worse! Inflation prejudices the position of all face-value securities, endangering the credit of any government that tolerates it.

The possibility of a creditors' strike is an ever present threat in times of inflation, and it is this the bankers fear. But the bright boys who are doing our planning think they have the answer to a creditors' strike if and when it comes.

Escalators Everywhere. Slichter and other soft-money economists propose to hook the government's bonds to an escalator clause that will progress with inflation. Obviously, this would double the national debt every time the bonds were cut in half — as they have been in the past 10 years — and taxes would have to be hooked to the same clause, which is fantastic, or more money would have to be printed, thus accelerating the inflation.

To meet this situation, "every law, regulation, and contract that mentions any sum of money would have to be put on the escalator," says The National City Bank. When Germany finally hooked her bonds to a value-keeping clause, both money and bonds promptly dropped to zero.

The bank quotes Lenin: "There is no subtler, no surer means of overturning... society (a capitalist economy) than to debase the currency. The process engages all the hidden forces of economic law on the side of destruction, and does it in a manner which not one man in a million is able to diagnose."

The bank observes: "...any government that is playing with inflation is playing with fire." And that is just about the prize-winning understatement of the century!

Course Given On Home Repairs

Do you get a little irritated at times with yourself because some simple repair job around the house needs doing and you are unable to do it? Are there some broken electrical switches here and there that you could fix in five minutes if you knew how to begin? Don't you think you should be able to fix a continually dripping faucet? Have you been wanting to do a little wall-papering? Well the Home Mechanics Course now offered as part of the Adult Education Program is designed for you. It is designed to meet needs as outlined above and many others not mentioned. It is designed for the person, male or female who would like to do many simple things around the house but needs a little instruction.

Some of the problems to be covered by this course will be: the replacing of faucet washers, repairing flush tanks mechanisms, replacing fuses, re-wiring lamps, glazing, sash cord replacement, hanging wall paper, painting, screen repair and special problems submitted by students.

While the wise home owner should refrain from making any but simple and minor repairs he should have a good general knowledge of the plumbing, electrical, and structural layout of his own home.

Mr. Donald E. Buckwald, an exceptionally able instructor has been retained to teach this course. He is a shop teacher by profession and is also engaged in general contracting.

If you reside in Arlington and you are not now attending day school you are eligible to register for this course. The course is open to men and women. It will be held every Thursday evening for 10 weeks from 7:00 to 10:00 P.M. at Junior High School East beginning January 17. If you are interested, please report to room 4, Junior High School East, Thursday, January 17 at 7:00 P.M. The course is offered under the auspices of the Public Schools and there is no charge. For further details please call AR 5-5800 the Office of the Superintendent of Schools.

Clyde made his trip home by plane, first from Pusan to Tokyo, then via the Aleutians to Anchorage, Alaska, and to Washington state. He flew the rest of the way by stratorcruiser.

Clyde has spent his time at home visiting friends and working. Spending time at home, also with his mother. "It's good to be home. I hope I can stay," he said. He had not then received word of his transferral. Now, fortunately, he'll be free to visit home on weekends from Fort Devens.

Besides his mother, he has a sister Lucy, a student in High School.

Notes*PACK 86 HAS A "WINDING"

A large percentage of the parents of the Cub Scouts of Pack 86 attended the first meeting of the new year on Friday evening, January 4th at Peirce School. They were well pleased to observe the display of Cub Scout handicraft and the enthusiasm of the boys during the evening.

A program of entertainment was offered by several of the dens. Mrs. Price's Den 4 had Billy Collins do a cornet solo. Mrs. Rice's Den 5 lined up and with combs played "Silent Night." Mrs. Le Bel's Den 7 sang a group of songs, accompanied on the piano by Cub Scout Tommy Ray.

Following these acts several songs were sung by all those present. There was much gusto and volume as cubs competed against parents and friends during this period.

After the song-fest, William Suttie, former Cub-Master, organized a competitive "Musical Chairs" game between dens. The winner from each den competed in a finale, with Cub Scout Richard Anderson of Den 7 winning. This entitled him to keep the banner in his den for the next month. Mrs. Hutchinson was piano accompanist for the game and for other numbers during the evening.

An interesting ceremony closed the affair. The Cub Scouts formed a circle with hands clasped crossed arms. Inside this circle the parents and friends formed a smaller similar ring. The boys sang a good-night song. In the pause that followed, Mr. Suttie gave an impressive explanation of just what the American Flag and their earlier singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" meant. He emphasized how serious and reverent they should be when singing the anthem and also what the flag should mean to everyone living in this country.

"Taps" was blown by Bill Doherty of Troop 7 for the conclusion.

Mr. Suttie's efforts together with those of the various den mothers: Mrs. Heffer, Den 1; Mrs. Miller, Den 2; Mrs. Carnel, Den 3; Mrs. Price, Den 4; Mrs. Rice, Den 5; Mrs. Gunn, Den 6; Mrs. Le Bel, Den 7; Mrs. Leonard, Den 8; Mrs. Gariepy, Den 9 did much to make this affair a memorable event.

Building dozens of new units to produce electricity more economically—to help hold rates down—is an expensive job. For example, the post-war expansion program of the business-managed companies supplying New England's electric power already runs to more than a HALF BILLION DOLLARS.

Now, as you know, electric companies are not permitted to earn enough to pay for new construction on this scale out of their own pockets. Neither do they dip into the taxpayers' pockets via Federal subsidies.

Then where does the money come from? It comes from the savings of millions of thrifty people who realize the vital part electricity plays in New England's prosperity. As long as the electric companies earn a fair return on plant investment, prudent citizens will always be ready to help finance necessary expansion.

FOR FUN AND SERVICE

If you have spare time and like to work with things artistic, here is a chance to learn a hobby and help others too.

Patients in hospitals, some confined for weary months, need outlets for their unused energies. The Arts and Skills Service of the Red Cross is willing to train you—in fields varying from textile painting to ceramics, and under qualified artists—if you in turn will teach the art or craft to patients in hospitals once a week (more if you wish). A class in textile painting begins this month.

The therapeutic value of such activities for patients cannot be overstressed. New fields open to them, confidence results at seeing achievements come from their own hands, and a whole new positive attitude results when they feel their spirit of creativity set free. Seeing this change in others will be an enriching experience. . . but you'll also be grateful that you yourself have learned to create.

Patients in the wards of Chelsea Naval Hospital, West Roxbury Veterans' Hospital, and Carney and Children's Hospitals are in need of aid. Would you like to help them? Call the Red Cross.

U. M. T.

The News has a high regard for Bishop John Wesley Lord and his church, and it reads with interest his statement on Universal Military Training. It cannot, however, feel that the thoughts presented in the Bishop's statement are completely in accordance with its own views, in spite of the sincerity with which they are given.

The News wishes here to express its doubts as to some of the statements made by Mr. Lord, with the hope that the clash of opinions will help to evolve in the minds of Arlington residents some considered judgments on the subject.

Everyone, it seems, agrees with the Bishop that our real problem is moral and spiritual, but the statement that the moral and spiritual training of our young men should not be placed in the hands of the military even for a limited period of time is open to question. The men would receive little enough moral-spiritual training, but how much do they receive at home? Those who have been brought up in church ways will always carry with them a core of conscience to guide them and, though they will meet temptation, they will know right from wrong. For those who have received little training at home the change might be advantageous. We have delinquents and the criminally-inclined in civilian life as well as in the armed services, and those so inclined in the armed services could well say that they learned their inclinations before entering the service. A year of military training cannot be expected to bear the blame for outcroppings of the failures of the home and the civilian society, though everyone seems ready to blame it.

The military need for preparedness is undeniable, since Russia will not yet listen to talk of honor and morals. The extent to which we need armaments and universal military training we must decide by following advice of military and civilian leaders whom we trust. Obviously, it should be as limited and as brief as possible while yet being sufficient to safeguard peace and preserve the free way of life.

Bishop Lord's thought on universal peace training is good. If the idea is put into practice rather than passed from person to person, it can move us far toward peace.

As a companion-action for the present difficult times, however, U. M. T. has much to commend it. Its most valuable contribution to the country and to democracy lies in the awakening which it will give young men—men who are near to maturity physically but who have been so over-protected from reality and from democratic processes and from honest consideration of values that they are unprepared to take over the heritage which our forefathers sweated blood to get and which many of our contemporaries are not able to appreciate.

Differences of opinion are the essence of democracy. While we admire and respect Bishop Lord, we nevertheless must express what we think on this subject which is so close to each of us.

now giving much advertising to small dailies and weeklies. This tendency is sure to increase as years go on. The people of small communities read advertisements very carefully.

One of the safest investments is in newspapers, large or small, especially where there is only one newspaper which controls the field. It is true that the costs of producing all newspapers are rising, but it is easy to raise the price of a newspaper. Most newspapers now sell for five cents, while some have recently increased to seven or ten cents. People want news; the more they pay for a newspaper, the more carefully it is read (news and ads)—hence, the more valuable is its advertising space.

Helping Employees Through Advertising

I believe in pension plans, but pensions help wage-workers only after they are 65 years old. Advertising helps all employees all the time. Too few companies take seriously the problem of making factory workers understand the importance of what advertising does to hold up production and high employment.

Labor newspapers should not accuse businessmen of "throwing money away" by spending it on advertising. It is true that advertising expenditures were about $6 billion in 1951, but nearly all of it is closely watched for prompt results in greater sales, which, when achieved, lead to larger pay rolls.

Thank Advertising For American Prosperity

Advertising is largely responsible for the fact that our wages and standard of living are so much higher than those of any other country. Without advertising we couldn't have mass selling. Without mass selling we could not afford mass production. Without mass production we would not enjoy the world's highest standard of living.

"What is selling—and advertising—doing to help me?" you may ask. It is helping you to secure 52 weeks of employment and is helping to increase your "take-home" pay. It is increasing employment so that your son can also get a good job. As it helps every worker, it makes more trade for every merchant. We should encourage advertising.

Magazine Advertising Has One Danger

Everything in this world has its advantages and disadvantages. Magazine advertising has such disadvantages. It is becoming so beautiful and so "pulling," prepared by high-priced artists and psychologists, that it can make many people buy more than they should and go needlessly into debt. These ads may then result in unreasonable labor demands. On this point, you might be interested to write the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, Washington 6, D. C., and ask for these free leaflets: "Fables and Facts About Advertising"; "The Man Who Couldn't See Beyond His Own Nose"; and "Where's Elmer?"

NEW TOWN MANAGER BILL IS ENTERED BY COMMITTEE

A hearing was held at the State House on Tuesday afternoon of this week on Senate Bill No. 456, on the Town Manager form of government for the Town of Arlington. This hearing was conducted by the Committee on Towns for the Senate. Among those present speaking in favor of the bill were James C. Doyle, chairman of the Arlington Committee, Martin Roach, Roscoe O. Elliott, John O. Parker, Howard Hayes, William T. Ring, Representative Hollis M. Gott, and Senator Robert Campbell of Medford.

Those speaking against the bill were Edward Sennott and Joseph Vahey. Representative Henry Keenan suggested that it might be advisable to hold a hearing in Arlington at a later date.

Chairman James C. Doyle, speaking for the bill, outlined changes that have been made in it since it was turned down by two of the state legislative committees.

It is felt by the local Town Manager committee that no harm has been done by the failure of the previous bill to pass and that the changes now made will improve the Town Manager plan considerably.

Next Monday at 1:00 p.m. over WBZ-TV four-year-old Gerald Carroll will make his first television appearance. Gerry, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Carroll of 152 Gardner Street, is the youngest of nine children. Many Arlington folks will be watching this program to see Gerry and to notice his continued recovery from his severe polio attack of two years ago.

Miss Mary E. Houley, who resides at 6 Lockeland Avenue, is serving on the committee which is planning the annual dinner and military whist party sponsored by the Women's Traffic Club of New England. It will be held at Hotel Lenox Monday evening, January 14.

A cordial invitation is extended to all who have no other church home.

Christian Science Services
Jesus' supreme example of the true way of life, illuminating the eternal oneness of God and man, will be emphasized at Christian Science Services this Sunday. "Sacrament" is the title of the Lesson-Sermon.
Jesus' words: "Behold, the hour cometh, yea, is now come, that ye shall be scattered, every man to his own, and shall leave me alone; and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me." (Luke 22:20), are included in the Lesson-Sermon.
"His consummate example was for the salvation of us all, but only through doing the works which he did and taught others to do," is a statement from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, which will also be read.

The Golden Text is from Psalms 24:3, 4. "Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in his holy place? He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart."

New Exhibit in Library Hall

This week the exhibit of paintings in Library Hall changed and 15 oils by Nazelle Avakian (Mrs. Charles Avakian) of 120 Varnum Street are now on display. A landscape of particular note is entitled "Autumn in Lincoln." Of her paintings of flowers, perhaps the painting called "Gladioli" would take top rank. Kedian

Many of the witnesses contributed their observations to the case. One M.D.C. officer who was off duty and returning home, one a passing driver, one an Arlington officer returning home after duty. Many reported Kedian's head covered with blood.
Clothing worn by Kedian at the time was exhibited, showing the extent of bleeding which occurred. Pictures of Kedian taken after his return home from the hospital, were presented by Cornelius Brogan of the Housing Authority. Kedian, also a member of the board, was — through a typographical slip — reported as the chairman of the Authority last week. The case will be continued next Monday.

Bishop Lord

We have been led to believe that UMT is virtually law. This is not so. The first step toward a functioning universal military training program lies in Congressional approval of legislative recommendations creating the National Security Training Corps. If Congress fails to approve, the first step will not be taken. Therefore, we need to alert our Congressmen to our convictions on this highly controversial matter. Telephone calls and personal visits are necessary. Remember that these men have terrific pressures placed upon them as they work in the atmosphere and presence of the military in Washington. They need and look for our support. Let the voice of the church be heard in this hour of high decision, lest the judgments of history reveal that we were misled by our fears and passions.

Our old world is sick unto death of war and preparation for war, and waits the voice of a nation that has moral grandeur sufficient to turn the tide of human history. Let us work and pray that America may provide that voice.

"God, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets, hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son..." (Hebrews 1:1,2)

On the Oregon coast a certain mountain juts out in daring defiance of the Pacific Ocean. When the first white men settled in that region, they heard an Indian legend. It was said that strange, bearded men once landed there and buried a treasure box somewhere upon the mountain. Upon this weak authority, and in search of a treasure of unknown reality or value, hundreds of people have scarred the mountain in search of the supposed treasure. Scores have sacrificed time and energy and several have lost their lives in what has proved a vain search.

There is a sure treasure of priceless worth freely available to all who will seek it. This is upon the authority of none other than our Saviour, for God hath spoken unto us by his Son. We hear that Son saying, "Seek, and ye shall find." His is not a buried treasure of questionable worth, but everlasting life and fellowship with the Father. Should we not be willing and eager to seek at any sacrifice for this spiritual treasure freely offered to us?

PRAYER
God, our Father, we thank Thee that Thou hast spoken unto us by Thy Son. Grant us wisdom and courage to seek for nothing less than the supreme gift of life which Thou hast offered us through Him. In His name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
I will seek the riches of Christ.

St. Agnes' Sports Night Will Be Star Studded

The Annual Sports Night of St. Agnes Holy Name Society will be held Friday evening, January 25 in the school auditorium. The master of ceremonies will be Tom Dowd, traveling secretary of the Red Sox. His reputation as a sports raconteur is recognized in all fields of sports, for in addition to his Red Sox duties he is an outstanding professional football official, Eddie Pellegrini, former Red Sox and Phillies infielder, will tell how it feels to play on a World Series team. Mike Holovak, coach at Boston College, will show pictures of the recent B. C. - H. C. game and provide some interesting sidelights on the contest. Supporting him will be two local boys, members of this year's squad, Jack Doran and Henry O'Brien. 1952 PONTIAC BOASTS TWO SETS OF GEARS

Plans for a nation wide demonstration driving program by Pontiac dealers, in which the company's 1952 models will be made available for public testing of the new Dual-Range driving features, were announced today by L. W. Ward, Pontiac general sales manager.

It is expected that the new program will put Pontiac into the hands of more than a million drivers during the next three months and will impart valuable first-hand knowledge of the performance characteristics of the new cars, Ward said. He stated that the decision to take this means of acquainting drivers with the new engineering features of the cars has resulted from numerous inquiries from professional test drivers and from the public.

The Dual-Range Hydra-Matic drive provides the owner of the 1952 models with two completely different driving ranges, each having individual characteristics, Ward explained. For economical performance in country and boulevard driving the automatic transmission utilizes the usual 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th gear speed ranges. For driving in congested traffic or mountainous territory a second range is provided utilizing a new 1st, 2nd and 3rd combination, particularly adapted for these conditions.
